

Welcome to our 12th Scarecrow Festival

We are looking forward to a colourful array of scarecrows all across the village. The theme is Sir David Attenborough, to celebrate his 100th birthday this year. However, this is not a strict guideline and all ideas are welcomed.

When looking for scarecrows, make sure you explore all the side streets and cul-de-sacs. Winning examples have been in tucked-away corners of the village before.

The Scarecrow Festival is a competition. If you would like your favourite to win, please go to the voting page on our website www.haslingfieldscarecrowfestival.org/vote

The scarecrow with the most votes will win, but so will one lucky winner whose vote will also be added to a prize draw. Voting closes at one minute to midnight, 13th September.

Thank you to the parish council for their support, as well as everyone who has contributed to the weekend with so many wonderful events.
